

Egoic Mind Awareness

Finally, at the beginning of the 21st century, and the dawning of this new age, mankind has reached the point where the capabilities of the corporate scientific community mirrors the Egoic delusions resident in the human mind, to create a destruction so foundational and complete that it threatens mankind's very existence, at our nutritional source.

The Egoic mind is defined as 'that power which seeks to defend and glorify the separate and separated self'... to the detriment of the integrated or whole self. The true and whole human being is characterized as the amalgamation of eternal spiritual energy with created finite human energy, of which the mind or Egoic energy is a part.

Why do I characterize this as delusional? Because the human mind is a scant bit of our overall and true energy, and when it is given a predominant place in our overall operational structure, it tends to skew the mind's ability to rationally discern and judge events and results.

I point to two significant events that demonstrate this, and are having a marked impact on all human life on this planet... whether all of its inhabitants are aware of it or not.

The first event is the splitting of the atom. This technology was borne out of an environment dominated by world chaos, created by the now consistent theme of the past age... male dominated conflict and desire for control, based on Egoic fear.

The Egoic mind, driven by a mass, male-dominated desire (fear) for control and dominance, reached the pinnacle of its global destructive abilities with the development of this technology... by using extremely concentrated and focused force to split an atom and thus unleash a destructive energy not ever before witnessed by mankind on this planet.

Those in power, at that time, knew of the toxic implications and destructive forces associated with their actions, and pursued them anyway. As usual, voices of reason – many with significant scientific standing – were ignored or silenced... another clear sign of Egoic presence... since Egoic domination withers in the presence of truth and compassion.

Incidentally, one of the lesser, yet still significant objections was focused on the waste created from the less destructive fissionable process used in nuclear power plants. There still, after 70 years, is no responsible solution to that ongoing nightmare.

Now, add this second and globally pervasive Egoic technological event, genetic modification. This aberration is the height of mankind's arrogance, shortsightedness, and Egoic tendencies... and gives a clear insight into the truly destructive nature of the unchecked corporate ego.

By recklessly tampering with the very foundation of cellular structure and operation, we are subjecting the entire plant, animal and human populations to a fatal toxicity never before witnessed on this planet.

Mankind's progress, or civilization, has steadily formed a structure of betterment and protection, in spite of the Egoic setbacks, until this recent assault on sanity. It begs the question, how deluded have those in power and control become to allow such a thing to happen? And, why have we allowed it?

This assault on fundamental health began over 20 years ago. It was sanctioned and furthered by elements of the US government designed to protect its citizens from such things... and because of their position and esteem in the world community, seduced other governments to follow their example. Why, is the question that should be on every rational person's mind and lips today.

We, citizens of this planet, are now at a critical decision point, as this event shows... how will we respond? I suggest using the gifts of this new age... including these various forms of enlightenment, and types of mass communications.

Remember, we're all part of the energy on the planet today... and each of us is responsible for our own healthy spirit-mind relationship and the body that it creates. Revel in, and become intimately aware of your total energy. Also, consciously integrate your spirit-mind energy to form clear and essential healing for yourself and our planet.

UNITE to let this misguided group know that you take this seriously, and want it stopped NOW!!
